OUTREACH & PROGRAMMING SERVICES

SUMMARY

During June – August, the Cleveland Public Library (CPL) implemented a phased reopening of the Library. It raised its capacity limits to 50% of its pre-COVID operating capacity, reopened meeting rooms, and resumed many engagement services such as Library tours and wedding photography; library programming and educational services remained online with some exceptions.

YOUTH

Summer Lit League (SLL) is an eight-week program that challenges children and adults alike to read for a chance to win prizes. Participants are separated into three age groups: Kids (0-11), Young Adults (12-18), and Adults (19+).

The 2021 SLL theme, A World of What Ifs, was a nod to artist Kameelah Janan Rasheed, a Brooklyn-based artist who will be doing a residency at the Library as part of FRONT International’s Contemporary Art Expo in 2022. Rasheed’s installations are designed to spark conversation by way of open-ended textual prompts, and this concept was woven into the summer reading program curriculum.

Participation in this year’s program was significantly higher than 2020, with 6,293 people registrations. While the registration numbers remained lower than years past (pre-Covid-19 era), almost half of the registrants completed the challenge: 2,890 (46% completion rate). Additionally, there was an increase in virtual programming and activities: completed activities (161), written reviews (1,445), books read (43,773), trackable virtual video views (517).

Children who completed the Summer Lit League earned chances to win prizes such as a PS5, Apple iPad, Chromebooks, Nintendo Switch, and family passes to the Great Lakes Science Center. The program concluded with a culminating event on Thursday, August
5, at the Great Lakes Science Center. The Great Lakes Science Center provided a generous in-kind donation of five thousand dollars to make the finale possible. As a result, there was an uptick in finale attendance (1,583), as it was scheduled on a weekday, allowing daycare centers and Cleveland Metropolitan Summer Enrichment students to attend.

The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, Great Lakes Science Center, The Cleveland Monsters, Center for Arts-Inspired Learning, and Literary Cleveland served as vital partners in this year’s SLL reading program.

Young Scholars Academy (YSA), a kindergarten readiness program designed for children ages 3-6 was held during July and August. Approximately 25 families participated in both the beginner and intermediate level virtual courses that were held once a week for 6 weeks. The lessons and activities are based on the Ohio Department of Education Learning Standards; participating parents are given researched-based tips that support learning opportunities at home.

Violin for Boys, the Library’s music education program that provides one-on-one violin instruction to school-aged students, was held from June – August. Thirteen students from the Langston Hughes and Rice branches and the Faith Foundation participated in the summer’s violin program, with classes being offered in-person and virtually.

The program focused on the history of Black Glenville through the lens and voices of the Black community.

On Friday, June 18, the Library screened Monumental Crossroads a documentary about the national debate over Confederate Monuments. The screening was followed by an interview with the film’s director, Tim Van den Hoff. Van den Hoff of Gander Yonder Pictures is a Netherlands-based independent producer and distributor of social issue documentaries.

On Saturday, June 19, the Library hosted What is Free? a virtual event that provided practical solutions for improved health, financial stability, and spiritual connectedness for African American Clevelanders.

EXHIBITS

In July and August, the Library unveiled a 2-part public art installation featuring two works by artist Darius Steward: a mural and a grouping of six sculptures. Steward’s Baggage Claim, In Search of New Beginnings, is an installation that embraces the themes of identity, progress, and perseverance. It is on display in Cleveland Public Library’s Eastman Reading Garden and Harvard-Lee Branch as part of See Also, the public art program presented every year in partnership with LAND studio.

Steward is a renowned artist in Cleveland whose work has been featured in various galleries and exhibitions, including the FRONT International: Cleveland Triennial; holds a BA from the Cleveland Institute of Art and an MFA from the University of Delaware. watercolor paintings surrounding the baggage claim concept. His 2-dimensional work is displayed in a newly constructed mural framing system at the Harvard Lee Branch, and the sculptures are placed in the Eastman Reading Garden.

Baggage Claim, in Search of New Beginnings, was made possible through Cleveland Public Library’s partnership with LAND studio and additional funding from the Char and Chuck Fowler Family Foundation through the LANDFORM program. The sculpture installation will display through early 2022 in the Eastman Reading Garden, located between Main Library and Louis Stokes Wing on Superior Avenue downtown. In addition, the mural can be viewed at the Harvard-Lee Branch at 16918 Harvard Avenue in Cleveland.

On August 27, in observance of Black Philanthropy Month, The Soul of Philanthropy Cleveland (TSOPCLE) and the Cleveland Public Library invited journalists to an exclusive sneak peek of the new Celebrate Those Who Give Black™ exhibition, which is permanently housed at the Cleveland Public Library, Main Branch. The exhibition tells the story of African Americans who give time, money, and talent to a better life in Cleveland. The community nominated each person for their selfless acts of humanity.

On August 28, in a continued recognition of Black Philanthropy Month, and most specifically Giving Black Day 8/28, a day dedicated to promoting financial support for black-led and black-benefiting grassroots 501(c)3 organizations, CPL in partnership with TSOPCLE, and the Black Equity and Humanity Fund, hosted the Celebrate Those Who Give Black™ event and exhibit ribbon-cutting ceremony. INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY & CLEVNET

The CLEVNET Directors held their 3rd quarterly Meeting using Microsoft Teams on July 30th 2021. Hilary Prisbylla, Director of CLEVNET, provided updates for the group on several ongoing projects and solutions available to the membership. These include:

• Springshare’s LibAnswers and LibCal platforms, used for virtual reference, event management, room reservations, and equipment booking
• Patron self-checkout functionality available through the CLEVNET Mobile App
• Patron Point, used for email newsletters, welcome campaigns, and patron notification
• BLUEcloud Analytics, CLEVNET’s data warehouse and analytics tool, which now has its own separate instance for better stability and reporting capabilities and
• the upcoming SirsiDynix Symphony (ILS) upgrade to the latest server version

Ms. Prisbylla’s team is also working with staff at Stow-Munroe Falls Public Library in preparation for their migration to CLEVNET. Stow-Munroe Falls Public Library will go live on CLEVNET on September 13, 2021.

Larry Finnegan, Director of IT for CLEVNET, reported on several projects his team has been working on. These projects included a positive update on progress with the CLEVNET VoIP service with the potential to add new libraries in the coming months. In preparation for Stow going live on CLEVNET, the Network team has also migrated Stow’s existing network to the CLEVNET network, and the Solutions team will soon migrate them to Office 365 and other services.

Ms. Prisbylla announced that Megan Trifiletti, formerly a Library Systems and Applications Specialist for the last 4 years, had been promoted to the position of Library Systems and Applications Analyst. Ms. Prisbylla congratulated Ms. Trifiletti on her new position.
Tim Diamond, Chief Knowledge Officer at Cleveland Public Library (CPL) and CPL’s liaison to CLEVNET, reported on a discussion that he had with Tom Corrigan, a member of the CPL Board of Trustees for over 35 years, regarding the changes to CLEVNET’s governance in the last 7 years. On June 16, 2021, Mr. Corrigan attended the CLEVNET Executive Panel meeting. During the Executive Panel meeting, Mr. Corrigan expressed his support of CLEVNET’s governance and requested that Mr. Diamond provide a presentation to the CPL Board at their June 17th, 2021 meeting outlining these changes and the evolution of CLEVNET. Mr. Diamond then gave that same presentation to the CLEVNET Directors.

Mr. Diamond also introduced John Skrtic, Chief of Collections and Special Projects at CPL. Mr. Skrtic will be taking over as the new CPL liaison after Mr. Diamond’s retirement, and Mr. Diamond wholeheartedly recommended him to the CLEVNET Directors. Mr. Skrtic has worked for CPL for over 30 years in a variety of public services roles. He is devoted to the library profession and the success of CPL. He is looking forward to working with CLEVNET.

Mr. Diamond then reviewed the results of the CLEVNET satisfaction survey conducted with the CLEVNET Directors. 41 of the 46 Directors responded to the survey. 85% of respondents said they would recommend CLEVNET to a non-CLEVNET library, and 95% indicated the quality of CLEVNET services were in the “High to Very high” quality range.

Finally, the group acknowledged Tim Diamond’s retirement. Lorena Hegedus, Chair of the CLEVNET Executive Panel, congratulated Mr. Diamond and thanked him for all his years of dedicated service to libraries and to CLEVNET. Mr. Diamond will be greatly missed.
