While online programming has been challenging, we have managed to get attendance for some our programs. Ms. Gielty hosted a Zoom

Movie/Book Club for seniors with 10 attendees from St. Augustine nursing home in July. Walz youth staff made sure to stay in touch with daycares, day camps and local children to encourage engagement for Summer Lit League. Many patrons continue to express great need for computer access in the Mt. Pleasant neighborhood, and the community is looking forward to the branch re-opening. Due to the lack of access to technology, the need for information accessibility in the community we serve is more important than ever before. Library Assistant- Computer Emphasis (LACE), Larisse Mondok worked on a community resource collection that is posted in the branch window for patrons passing by. The branch has also been provided access to the branch Facebook page which will open up new ways to connect with our patrons. Youth Librarian, Mark Tidrick, has worked diligently with our community partners to help support neighborhood youths' artistic expression. The artwork the kids create during this program will be displayed in the Mt. Pleasant Branch meeting room.

As the first of six locations to reopen for curbside and walk up services, Rice set the bar for patron assistance and the roadmap for effective service utilizing an exterior business method. With the permission of the District Manager, the Rice branch knitting group took advantage of this new model by holding their weekly meetings on the front lawn. We will be having our Wi-Fi signal boosted for the community's to build upon the excellence. Throughout the summer, Rice staff internally completed the scanning of every single item in the branches collection to maintain a record of what circulates, what will be sent to the Friends Foundation for the book sale, and what items need to be reordered. We then shifted the collection and made room for a new "Teen Space". Also, throughout the summer months Rice Branch participated in community engagement efforts that included Councilman Blain Griffin's community program A Community Check-In & Check-Up, the 4th districts community information meetings, handing out weekly "grab and go" and

OUTREACH & PROGRAMMING SERVICES

SUMMARY

During June - August, the Cleveland Public Library (CPL) remained closed to staff and the public due to the COVID-19 pandemic. During this time, the Outreach & Programming Services Department (OPS/3E) launched its first virtual programming phase to families and children.

PARTNERS AND PROGRAMS

Summer Lit League: Speak Out, Get Loud, Democracy 2020 (SLL) was Cleveland Public Library's first-ever virtual summer reading program held June 1 - July 25, 2020. Youth ages birth - 18 were encouraged to make a difference in their community by reading and participating in a host of weekly virtual programs.

The first phase of virtual programs launched under the SLL umbrella was as follows:

- Make a Change Mondays - A democracy-inspired crafting class led by a Center for Arts-Inspired Learning teaching artist. The library purchased supplies and was made available via curbside pick-up.
- Tell-a-Tale Tuesdays - Virtual Storytimes read by local politicians, authors, and library staff, and volunteers.
- Read to the Beat Wednesdays - An interactive virtual program for early readers, exploring books and storytelling through music and singing. The Music Settlement facilitated this program.
- Town Hall Thursdays - Featured various artists, musicians, and authors such as Kelly Starling Lyons and Kate Messner.

The programs listed above were hosted using Zoom in addition to being live-streamed to the Cleveland Public Library Facebook Live and YouTube channels resulting in over 10,000 streams of library programs.

Although SLL registration rates were significantly lower than years past, the completion rate continued its upward trend, as 62% completed the program. The SLL culminating event sponsored by The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame offered free museum passes to local museums and various prizes such as Apple iPads, Nintendo Switches, and Chromebooks. Finale prizes, including Cleveland Metroparks Zoo family passes, The Children's Museum of Cleveland family passes, were raffled off on the Beanstack platform.

Art Therapy, the library's ongoing therapeutic program targeting school-aged children and teens, continued throughout the summer at two locations. Twenty families were consistently engaged throughout this program series. The library's art therapy program was the first to offer programming supplies by mail. The direct mailing and follow-up by phone are two factors that contributed to the success of this program.

Families with children entering Kindergarten (Fall 2020) took part with a weekly skill building program that supported kindergarten readiness. The program was divided into two 30-minute meetings, one for parents and one for the entire family. Both meetings were focused on the State of Ohio Educational Standards and was presented over a nine-weeks.

Forty-three families participated weekly in a 30 -minute Zoom Parent/Caregiver Activity meeting with an Early Childhood Teacher. The last 30-minutes involved the Scholar's & Families with an interactive learning activity.

CPL Kindergarten Club provided a supportive community of peers and professionals to answer questions and guided conversation.

In partnership with Literary Cleveland, the library hosted a series of neighborhood-based writing workshops that invited patrons to submit stories, essays, and poems for inclusion in an anthology that will become part of the Cleveland Public Library's permanent collection. Over two months, local and nationally known authors hosted writing workshops targeting residents of six geographic regions covering every neighborhood in the city. After the 75 writings were submitted for inclusion in the Neighborhood Voices Anthology, the Anthology's release will coincide with an online culminating event in November of 2020.

This year's See Also public art installation in the Eastman Reading Garden features "Reflect and Refract Democracy" by Rose DeSiano.

The installation's maze-like lenticular walls intersperse Cleveland's historic photos with mirrored panels reflecting the garden and its visitors. Two orbital monuments in the Reading Garden center honor historic Clevelanders who have played pivotal roles around democracy in our city through political action, activism, and cultural contributions. The installation was completed on August 31 and will remain standing through the spring of 2021.

COLLECTION & TECHNICAL SERVICES

Shipments and deliveries of library materials were temporarily suspended in March when the Library closed and were reinstated in June after staff returned to work. A backlog of over 10,000 items was waiting to ship when the library reopened since library materials are generally ordered three to six months in advance of when the title is expected to be released. Vendors gradually released shipments in controlled amounts so as to not overwhelm Library staff who were only working 50% of their hours due to SharedWork Ohio (SWO). Vendors also required that the backlog of older orders had to ship before any new orders could be placed which delayed reinstating the ordering processing.

Ordering of eMedia was reinstated immediately when staff returned to work but ordering of all other formats was reinstated as the shipping backlog with each vendor was eliminated. The last shipments of backlog items were received during the last week of July when staff resumed working their full-time hours and the selection and ordering of library materials returned to the same level it had been at prior to the Library's closure.

Acquisitions and High Demand Staff had to adjust some of their daily tasks when the shared network drives were migrated to the SharePoint Document Libraries at the beginning of August. The Microsoft Access database that was used for generating purchase orders could not be migrated and Excel spreadsheets that were used for maintaining statistics were no longer linked and had to be reformatted. Interim Director of Collection and Technical Services Sandy Jelar Elwell has been working with IT to create a replacement for the purchase order documents and information that was generated and maintained in the Microsoft Access database.

Acquisitions Librarian Leslie Pultorak, Collection Management Librarian Laura Mommers, High Demand Librarian Dale Dickerson, Technical Services Associate Anarie Lanton, and Technical Services Senior Clerk Paula Stout assisted with the unpacking, verifying, and receiving of new materials in the Lake Shore Shelf/Shipping Department when needed.

Ms. Jelar Elwell met with Project Manager Michael Ruffing to discuss the unpacking and sorting of the corporate annual reports collection. Ms. Jelar Elwell attended the Baker & Taylor (B&T) Discover BTCat webinar and participated in additional discussions about the new BTCat cataloging utility with B&T representatives along with Director of CLEVNET Hilary Prisbylla and IT/CLEVNET staff. Ms. Jelar Elwell attended the CLEVNET Technical Services and Acquisitions Special Interest Group (SIG) meeting and continued to participate in the weekly meetings of the Capital Improvement Plan Core Team.

Ms. Jelar Elwell, Catalog Manager Andrea Johnson, Collection Manager Pam Matthews, and Materials Handling Supervisor James Clardy attended the Public Services update, MetroHealth Self Care / Mental Health webinar, COVID 19 Playbook HR Forum, and CPL Manager Meeting. They also met with the Capital Projects Team and Bostwick Design architects to review the potential designs for the Woodland campus. Collection and Technical Services Managers and staff attended the Director's Town Hall, COVID-19 Playbook Town Hall, and Employee Resource Group Presentation and participated in the Acute Respiratory Illness Pandemic: Prevention and Response training.

Senior Catalog Librarian Dawn Grattino retired from CPL on June 30 after 23 years of service.

Acquisitions: Acquisitions Coordinator Alicia Naab communicated with Main Library selectors regarding the fund balances for OverDrive eMedia purchases and reductions to the funds of other formats of library materials.

Catalog: Staff cataloged 7,738 titles and added 12,823 items for Cleveland Public Library. The Department also added 8,576 titles, merged 565 records, and corrected 234 errors for CLEVNET member libraries.

In June, Senior Catalog Librarian Dawn Grattino and Technical Services Librarians Yeshe Dugarova-Montgomery, Michael Gabe, Amei Hu, Barbara Satow, and Erin Valentine finished overlaying short records identified by CLEVNET reports received during the Library's closure. Catalog Manager Andrea Johnson developed procedures for handling items that could not be sent to fill holds at other CLEVNET libraries while the statewide delivery service was unavailable.

In July, Ms. Johnson developed new guidelines to reflect changes that were needed for CLEVNET member library staff to submit overlay requests due to the Physical Item report implemented in February. She explained the report parameters and presented the new guidelines at the CLEVNET Technical Services and Acquisitions Special Interest Group (SIG) meeting on July 29. Catalog Librarian Perry Huang, Technical Services Librarian Celia Halkovich, Ms. Hu, and Ms. Satow attended the meeting.

Ms. Johnson revised the weekly responsibilities schedule for Librarians. She also updated the instructions for loading records to use the SharePoint Document Libraries that replaced the shared network drives in August. Ms. Valentine completed the backlog of CLEVNET overlay requests, which Ms. Dugarova-Montgomery, Mr. Gabe, and Ms. Hu had worked on over the previous month. Ms. Valentine created an original collection-level bibliographic record for a collection of logs from the Cleveland Fire Department Miles Park station.

Ms. Johnson and Ms. Satow met with Director of CLEVNET Hilary Prisbylla and Information Technology & CLEVNET staff Brian Leszcz and Jim Benson on August 13 to discuss the web-based version of the bibliographic input workform that they are developing for CLEVNET. Ms. Johnson and Ms. Satow tested a prototype of the tool and provided feedback on its presentation and functionality. The new webform will generate a MARC record that can be edited by Catalog staff.

Ms. Valentine attended the Northern Ohio Technical Services Librarians (NOTSL) Board meeting on July 10.

Collection Management: Collection Manager Pam Matthews worked extensively with OverDrive to make sure patrons' holds and requests were being filled as quickly and inexpensively as possible which included moving some titles to a Cost per Circ lending model. This was particularly effective for titles such as White Fragility and How to Be an Antiracist, where over 200 copies of the first and over 125 of the second were able to be lent out simultaneously.

Collection Management Librarian Laura Mommers attended a series of webinars throughout the summer, including online Title Talks in the following subject areas: Graphic Novels; Politics & Activism; Diversity; Fantasy; Early Readers; and Social and Emotional Learning for Teens and Tweens. She also attended a Macmillan Publishing webinar that previewed their upcoming fall titles and a Publisher's Weekly (PW) fall announcements webinar that highlighted fall titles from major publishers.

Ms. Matthews attended two meetings of the Editorial Team and a Workforce Development Program Committee meeting. She worked with OverDrive to acquire additional titles to support workforce development and to add links to resources on the OverDrive website for patrons to use. Ms. Matthews also recorded a book reading of Chicken Little by Rebecca Emberly and Ed Emberly to be used for a virtual storytime by Outreach and Programming Services.

High Demand: Technical Services Senior Clerk Mya Warner returned from a leave of absence on June 9 and began a second leave of absence on July 27.

Materials Processing: The Materials Processing Technicians processed 24,867 items during June, July, and August.

Shelf/Shipping: During the months of June, July, and August, the staff of the Lake Shore Shelf/Shipping Department sent 24 items to the Main Library for requests and 76 items to fill holds. Main Library received 416 telescopes, the Branches received 609 telescopes, CLEVNET received 115 telescopes, CSU received 10 telescopes, CWRU received 17 telescopes, and Tri-C received 7 telescopes. A total of 1,169 telescopes were shipped out. The Technicians sent out 37 items of foreign material and in total 20,280 new items were sent to the Acquisitions and High Demand Departments.

MARKETING & COMMUNICATIONS

Marketing and communication efforts for the summer months centered on the Library's phased REOPENING plans to the public with Curbside and Walk-Up Services beginning on June 8, and safely welcoming patrons back into its downtown location and 27 branches on August 24.

Cleveland Public Library is also encouraging the public to Be Counted and Be Heard through its DEMOCRACY 2020 campaign, finding creative ways to increase engagement and participation in the 2020 Census and this year's election through ad campaigns, printed materials, digital and social platforms. The campaign explores what it means to be an inclusive democracy and highlights the Library's programs, collections, and resources.

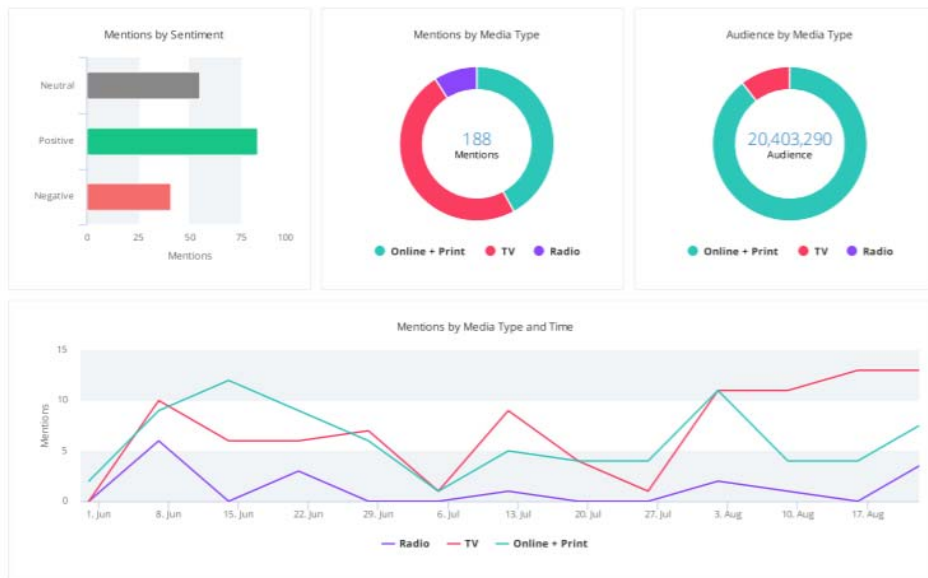

Additionally, CPL continues to stay relevant by joining larger community conversations on social media, encouraging dialogue around issues like racial understanding after the death of George Floyd.

PUBLIC RELATIONS OVERVIEW: Cleveland Public Library received nearly 200 mentions (Audience: ~20 million) in the news on a range of topics including phased reopening plans, Black Lives Matter, Democracy 2020, and other community initiatives and partnerships.

Over the summer, the Library unveiled its reopening plans including key partnerships with MetroHealth and the Greater Cleveland Food Bank. The Food Bank provided free meals and resources to children and families. MetroHealth helped the Library prepare for reopening. We also received positive media coverage for installing solar panels on the Rice Branch and participating in the Voices of Cle project.

In response to the recent police killings of Black Americans that sparked nation-wide protests, Cleveland Public Library issued a letter to the community reaffirming our policies as an inclusive institution. We provided resources to help families discuss race and understand the challenges and issues facing minority communities.

The Library also ramped up promotion of its Democracy 2020 campaign, which encourages Census participation and voter registration, and themed programs and events.

GRAPHICS: All designs and printed materials supported programming and organizational initiatives included Democracy 2020, One Community Reads, Summer Lit League, a fall program guide for kids, teens and adults, and COVID-19 signage.

SOCIAL MEDIA: From June to August, Library posts related to race, Library services updates, and politics seemed resonate most with its online community. These organic engagements fit well with the timely relaunch of the Library's Democracy 2020 campaign, involving discussions and resource related to the U.S. Census and generation election. This has resulted in an increase in engagements by 8.4% (+33,000 engagements) and a 2% growth (~40,000 followers) in total audience compared to the previous quarter.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY & CLEVNET

The CLEVNET Directors held their third quarterly meeting of the year on Friday, July 31, 2020, online as a Microsoft Teams Live Event. The agenda was similar to what was covered at the CLEVNET Executive Panel meeting held two weeks prior on July 14. Hilary Prisbylla, Director of CLEVNET and Larry Finnegan, Director of IT began the meeting assuring the Directors that CLEVNET staff are committed to doing everything they can to serve the CLEVNET member libraries during this time of unprecedented challenges.

First, CLEVNET staff are committed to helping member libraries reopen gracefully, each on its own terms and calendar, and begin the complicated process of reinstating resource sharing.

- CLEVNET staff, first tasked with disabling resource sharing among member libraries in March, then asked a few months later, when some libraries partially reopened, to limit holds to materials owned by the pickup library or library system, have had to carefully undo what was done for each member library without disrupting the integrity of CLEVNET.
- Notifications (holds, due soon, overdues, and lost) by phone, email, and text had to be stopped, altered, and restarted in the last five months.
- Statewide delivery resumed June 29, with 25,000 CLEVNET items still on their "way home" from the beginning of the pandemic shutdown; CLEVNET staff have had the tedious task of troubleshooting the journey home for many of these items.
- CLEVNET system holds were restarted July 6, requiring CLEVNET staff to update existing holds that had been limited to being filled by the pickup library or library system.
- Each of the member-library phone systems has required extensive intervention by CLEVNET staff during shutdown and reopening with changes in hours, workflows, and staff assignments.

Second, CLEVNET staff are committed to helping member libraries adopt new and innovative solutions to serve their patrons in the time of COVID-19.

- Patron-initiated library card renewal through the CLEVNET public website began May 26, allowing card privileges to be extended one year for those unable or not wishing to visit their local CLEVNET library.
- For those without a library card, no problem—beginning April 1, an adult could sign up for the OverDrive Instant Digital Card using their mobile phone number and access the OverDrive collection without leaving home; recently these accounts have been fully integrated with SirsiDynix.
- Following the lead of CPL, CLEVNET purchased and set up the LibAnswers Platform system with LibChat from Springshare for member libraries to answer questions, provide curbside pickup and other services.
- SirsiDynix's Books by Mail feature is being piloted at Lorain Public Library and Geauga County Public Library.
- CLEVNET's mobile app can now be used for self-check by patrons.
- Symphony Web (a browser based version of Workflows) is being tested at Rocky River Public Library.
- Cassie (computer and print management solution) at CPL was updated to version 4.0 to allow Chromebooks used by students.

Third, CLEVNET staff are committed to helping member libraries adopt new and innovative solutions to help their staff work more effectively and efficiently in this new era.

- In addition to the virtual CLEVNET-wide meeting of IT professionals and computer technicians from member libraries on July 24, smaller meetings, each limited to 10 staff members were scheduled for CLEVNET's three geographic regions: West, South, and East; the smaller meetings allowed for greater discussion and sharing of best practices across the many IT offices in CLEVNET.
- CLEVNET staff champion and support Office 365, OneDrive and SharePoint so staff can work from anywhere and collaborate with ease.
- For greater security and convenience, seamless SSO (single sign-on) for Office 365 was enabled June 30; fewer passwords to remember and fewer passwords to protect.

- CLEVNET staff worked with Nancy Mocsiran in CPL's Knowledge Office to move CPL to SharePoint document libraries (cloud-based storage within Office 365) allowing access to documents without VPN or special software; other member libraries have made the move as well, reducing the number of servers they need to have onsite, lowering operating and maintenance costs.
- As libraries closed their buildings, there was a great need for a solution that would turn a staff member's mobile device into an extension of their work phone; CLEVNET staff responded with Cisco Jabber, a platform that makes it appear that one is receiving and making calls from their desk phone when using the application on their mobile device.
- Guest access to Microsoft Teams was enabled August 24, allowing collaboration with outside contacts without the need for external document sharing services.
- CLEVNET started managing remote devices from the Cloud by joining Active Directory and Azure.
- Enabled LDAP (Lightweight Directory Access Protocol) CLEVNET-wide for all domain controllers.
- Created an Azure Active Directory authentication app for retrieving email.

Fourth, CLEVNET staff are committed to staying the course with their 2020 projects and goals.

- OverDrive circulation data now finally mirrors the resource sharing of physical items with "direct" and "sent" circulation data available for emedia.
- Accelerated Reader and Lexile measures became searchable in the public catalog on June 8, a tremendous help for parents and students who use these reading levels to select books.
- The scheduled upgrade to the SirsiDynix platform was successfully completed June 28.
- Staff began to roll out Patron Point, the email marketing publication platform for public libraries.
- A new learning management system (LMS) for staff training was purchased.

Fifth, CLEVNET staff are committed to fulfilling their regular duties and obligations with greater efficiency and accountability.

- Ticketing and help desk tools are more important than ever as staff work remotely.
- CLEVNET's infrastructure is an ongoing project with upgrades needed to network equipment and switches and an increasing demand for more access points, especially on the outside of libraries to provide WiFi to the public after hours.
- Security is always a tremendous concern; a new firewall was installed at the SOCC (State of Ohio Computer Center) in August and CLEVNET hosted a cybersecurity webinar with Simon Conant of Palo Alto Unit 42 on June 23 for all member libraries.
- Even during the pandemic, member libraries such as CPL, Elyria and Geauga County are planning new buildings and need consultation with CLEVNET staff on IT requirements.
- Staff are still helping member libraries go fine free.

The next quarterly meeting of the CLEVNET Directors will be held on Friday, October 30, 2020, at 10:00 am.
